Woody and Mary Humphries have discovered the secret to a successful marriage.

"Every time we had an argument, I always got the last word," Woody said with a grin. "My last words were always, 'yes, ma'am."

The two laugh at each other as if they were newlyweds. Perhaps laughter is the secret to a happy and fulfilling marriage because the two will celebrate 70 years together next week. "The Lord has blessed us with so many years," Mary said. "We have been and are doing great."
